We Care About the Environment

As Earth Day approaches we tend to become more aware of how our actions and the products we use impact the environment.

In the United States alone, it is estimated that over 7 billion pounds of plastic are thrown away each year.

IDentiphoto believes in minimizing our carbon footprint and has made internal strides to recycle material utilized within the office as well as reduce our overall paper consumption. We are also proud to offer you a variety of environment friendly ID products and solutions to aid you in your efforts.

Be sure to check out our April Special highlighting our must-have "Earth Friendly" products.
